A database, or database, is a collection of data that is stored in a single organized structure. It can also be. Q: Mapping data across multiple tables I'm working on a website that is tracking the progress of an internal trial and needs to tabulate the data across multiple tables. The two tables are: Development Issues - Table for tracking the progress of development Improvements - Table for tracking the progress of various improvements (e.g. a web banner, email marketing, etc.) I have a page that lists the Development Issues; this list can change from day-to-day, and I need to keep track of the progress in each issue. I'm currently doing this by adding the issue number to the URL, then looping through each issue in a function for a page using php. Here is a simplified version of what I have so far: Function that pulls the issues: function get_issues($var) { $sql = "SELECT * FROM issues"; $statement = mysql_query($sql); while($row = mysql_fetch_assoc($statement)) { $issues = $row['issue']; } return $issues; } The url for an issue listing: The html: "> I have also tried storing the issue ID in a separate database table, but the issue is the same - I can't just pass an issue number to the function;

The unnamed woman tested positive for the disease when she visited the Klinikum am Friedrichshain hospital in Berlin a week ago, the Berliner Kurier newspaper reported. She was not among the group of four patients, who all had mild symptoms, the paper said. Two other patients were transferred to a different hospital because their condition deteriorated. "We deeply regret the death of a nurse who was doing her duty for her patients in a difficult time," a hospital spokesperson said. A total of 325 people are currently infected in Germany, according to official statistics. More than 1,500 people have been quarantined in Germany, and the country's second-largest city of Düsseldorf announced on Wednesday that it would allow the reopening of bars and restaurants. As of last week, nearly 13,000 people have been diagnosed with Covid-19 in the UK, killing more than 80 people. The government imposed a lockdown earlier this month. Q: .htaccess redirect to.php via index.html I have a domain with both an index.html and an index.php. However, both serve the same content. When I get the page via index.html, it works as I expect. When I get the page via index.php, it displays the page content and adds the php file as a tag to the HTML. How can I make it so the page is loaded via index.php and not index.html. This is what I have in my.htaccess file: RewriteEngine On RewriteCond %{REQUEST_FILENAME}!-f RewriteCond %{REQUEST_FILENAME}!-d RewriteRule ^(.*)/index.html$ index.php?src=$1 A: 6d1f23a050
