I am not sure how to use the encrypter, but I have it working on a couple accounts with simple and complex passwords. I need a password-remover that can unlock everything, including audio/video files. EDIT: I got it. I had the file names stored incorrectly and thus failed to get passwords. It also does things like open PDF's or your bookmarks. You can find instructions on the manual. EDIT: It cannot open rar files, it needs a.rar file. Also the manual is still a long way from being finished, so if you are stuck there is no support. All help is appreciated. Okay, so I get how to do the simple password to unlock. And it looks like it's a program that will remove all the passwords for all the applications. But, I need a password remover that can open all my "locked" file (audio, videos). I don't have any problem password-saving the shortcuts and install it on each machine. I want a program that will do the job. Basically I'm trying to make the computer "private" and lock all the things as if it's owned by me. I have no problem to reset the shortcuts from the startup, but I prefer the program will save all the password. I got this code for software written for the personal version, so I don't know if it can be used on the premium version, but at least it can remove all the passwords saved to the current users profile.
